*If you do not provide voting instructions, your shares will not be voted on any non-routine proposal. Proposals 1 and 2 are considered "routine" proposals, so broker discretionary voting is permitted under NYSE Rules for each proposal. However, while broker discretionary voting is permitted for these proposals, an increasing number of brokers and similar organizations which hold shares in street name have elected to either refrain from discretionary voting or engage in a form of proportionate voting such as voting shares in a manner consistent with all other votes cast at the meeting. As a result, while broker discretionary voting could result in a vote "FOR" Proposals 1 or 2 for some or all instances in which a beneficial shareholder declines to provide instructions for voting his, her or its shares, we cannot predict what the ultimate outcome will be as it depends on the organization which has custody of the shares in each such case.
